

The Director of Motion Pictures for the National Parks Association, Charles Eggert:

"I often wonder whether or not wilderness is man's one instinct, for when he is trouble, confused, or dismayed, does he not seek some secluded place to ponder?"