

1999

---

The Utah Wilderness Inventory was conducted by the Bureau of Land Management between 1996 and 1999 to determine whether certain public lands in Utah possess wilderness characteristics. Details regarding the purpose of the inventory and procedures that were used are provided in the Introduction section and Appendices. Links to short narrative reports of findings as well as maps of specific inventoried lands may be found under the List of Inventory Units section. If you do not have a copy of the Adobe Acrobat Reader software described below, you will need to download a copy and install it so your browser can access the information in the files at this site.
